Best Support

Dawar Naqvi naqvidawar@gmail.com

In last elections the nation voted political parties to see unity and communal harmony, not for any division or communality. On August 19, MQM Quaid Altaf Hussain announced his support to Asif Zardari. He said in his televised interview that "Zardari should be Pakistan President". From the last few years Pakistan is going through serious threats of terrorism, Talibanization and economical recession. We need political stability and harmony in the country. Such an understanding is necessary for ensuring harmony in Sindh and Pakistan. Since the new government of PPP came into power, leaders of both the parties, especially MQM Quaid Altaf Hussain and PPP Co-chairman Asif Ali Zardari, are working together for political stability of the country. In the last six months more than once MQM Quaid Altaf Hussain has offered unconditional support to the new PPP Government on different issues. Support of Altaf Hussain to the PPP co-chairman Asif Zardari is the best support in the current political groupings. I live in the USA and Pakistanis here are always anxious about developments in Pakistan. We are really happy on this decision by MQM chief Altaf Hussain. In my opinion, every patriotic Pakistani should welcome this support. But the million-dollar question now is how Mr. Nawaz Sharif, Imran Khan and Qazi Hussain will react to this support. I urge them to please stop criticizing others; it is time for them to review their own acts.
